AT POLI'S.

With a stock company that has never been equaled in this city and never excelled in New England, and one of the greatest plays of the present day. The Man of the Heur, the management of Poll's theater is making one of the most surprising offers for next Monday night, the opening performance of this wonderful play, that has ever been made in connection with anything theatrical in this city. It is the desire of the management to have everyone see this popular company in this play and this popular company in this play and thereby learn just how goed the pro-ductions of the local company can be. thereby learn just how goed the productions of the local company can be. To that end there will be published in Saturday morning's Bulletin a coupon entiting any lady to a free admission and reserved seat Monday night if accompanied by some person with one paid reserved seat ticket. But in addition to this is the fact that Monday is the regular souvenir night, and therefore every lady attending will receive a set of posteard souvenirs of John H. Booth, three in number. The Man of the Heur has been one of the most tromendous hits of late years all over the country and has never been seen in this city. The performance as given by the Poll Pinyers should be notable in every way, as the organization is thoroughly capable in its individual makeup and as an erganization. This week's bill is The House of a Thousand Candles and it is pleasing beyond anything that has ever been done in stock in this city. Toright, tomerrow afternoon and night will see the last three performances of the week.

BREED THEATER.

A Tennessee Love Stery is the feature picture at the Breed today and tells of the antipathy of two Tennessee farmers for each other. One has a daughter, and the other. One has a daughter, and the other, knowing of the existing enmity, resolve to run away and get married. This they do, and on the day of the elopement, the young fellow accidentally shots his sweetheart's brother, mistaking him for a deen, following the deer to a point where he is eventually killed. The girl's father swears revenge, and apends years traing to locate the couple, finally running across their little easin in the woods. The enranged father rushes to the door with gun leveled, ready to fire, when he discovers the girl's busband rocking the baby to sleep. A cry from the buby causes him to drop the gun and saves the fellow's life. When the young wife enters, she finds her father rocking the baby to sleep.

The bill slee includes a superb Blograph, and a Vitagraph, and a thrilling story of a wild man.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Analysis of the Vote.

Mr. Editor: A comparative study of the election returns reveals some very interesting facts. Taking the vote cast for the agents of the town deposit fund for the agents of the town deposit fund as a basis, there were 2406 republican votes cast in Norwick in the town election in 1909. In 1911 the average was 1346, a republican loss of 1866, or 44 per cent. The democrats cast 2212 votes in 1996 and 1554 in 1841, a demo-cratic falling off 658 votes, or nearly 36 per cent. The socialists and prohi-bitionists did not nominate a ticket in 1866.

Osuparing the average vote cast for representative by the feur parties in November, 1916, with the average vote cast for assessor in 1911, it is found that the democrate cast 1997 votes in 1912 and 1854 in 1911, a less of 273, or 19 per cent. The republicans cast 1772 votes in 1926 and 1846 in 1911, a less of 1772 votes in 1926 and 1846 in 1911, a less of 1913 and 169 in 1911, more than holding their cwm while the prehibitionists cast 86 votes in 1916 and 365 in 1911, a loss of 31 votes, or 36 per cent. In tabular farm the result is as fellows:

		of Tetal.		Loss.	of Total.

Democratic Republican Socialist Prohibitionist	1927 1772 168 86	48.8 44.8 4.2 2.2	1554 1346 169 55	19 24 5* 36	43. 5.4 1.1
	2252		2124

*Gain. To sum up, every party lost votes in Norwich except the socialists and in percentage of total votes cast the republicans and prohibitionists lost ground and the accialists surpassed the elemecrats. The socialists have every reason to feel pleased with the results of the election, considering that this is the first time they have contested a town election, that there was no personal solicitation for votes for party randiantee and no meney spent for conveyances, etc., except for the printing of party platforms. The New London Day says that there were only 50 socialist votes cast in Norwich and that free text books carried, showing it is not always safe to depend en out of town sources for news.

The election in New London tells the following story.

·Gain.

In New London the socialists have made by far the largest gains, followed by the prehibitionists, while the democrats and republicans lost heavily, Mayor Mahan's party suffering the most. This is the first time the New London socialists have nominated can-didates. Who really won in New London?

In Willimantic the socialists also ertered the lists for the first time, and what do the election results show

In the town of Windham the democrats and republicans lost votes absolutely and lost standing relatively compared with 1910, the democratic slump being especially notable. The socialists and prohibitionists both gained absolutely and relatively, the latter making the more marked improvement.

It is only by careful analysis of the vote from year to year, comparing one party with another, that a clear idea of the drift of political sentiment can be observed. The socialists in Connecticut have every reason to enter upon the 1912 campaign with confidence and enthusiasm.

Causes of High Prices.

Editor Bulletin: In Wednesday's Bulletin, October 4, Neighbor Vallette sustains my contention that history repeats itself and the old adage of there is nething new under the sun is verified. Wherein he says the colonists of 1776 were under the same system as the Egyptians, and from 1792 to the present time she same monarchial system of private ownership of money is, he asserts, the cause of the present high cost of living.

In the report of the select commit-tee of the United States senate ap-pointed in 1910 to ascertain the causes of the increase in the cost of living, the following were among the reasons

Increased cost of production of farm products by reason of higher wages and higher values. Increased demand for farm products and food. Shifting of population from food-producing to food-consuming occupations and local-lities. Reduced fertility of land resulting in lower average production or in increased expenditures for fertilization. Increased banking facilities in agricultural localities which enable farmers to hold their crops and market to the best advantage. This results in steadying prices, but also tends to advance prices. Reduced supply convenient to transportation facilities of such commodities as time filities of such commodities as timber.

Cold-storage plants, which result in preventing extreme 'frectuations of prices of certain commodities with the seasons, but by enabling the whole-salers to buy and sell at the best possible advantage tend to advance prices.

Increased cost of distribution: in dustrial combinations; organizations of producers and of dealers; advertising; increased money supply; over-capitalization, and higher standard of So Brother Vallette will see the causes of high prices of fiving are as varied as what causes incubator chicks to die in the shell.

There is but one remedy for high prices, says Brother Vallette, and that is public ownership of all money when created by congress and paid out to individuals for service and for prod-ucts created by labor. I construct his to mean either state, or government regulation of prices.

In a recent convention at Boston Mass., of the American Ber associa-tion, E. H. Farrar, a noted lawyer and the president of the association, said in his address. For the govern-ment to fix the prices of merchandise bought and sold in commerce is ut-terly beyond the power of any legisla-tive body in America, and our free democratic society based on the inde-fendence of the individual and the development and protection of individual rights, would be shattered to its foun-

If love were what the rose is,
And I were like the leaf,
Cur lives would grow together
In sad or singing weather.
Blown fields or flowerful closes,
Green pleasure or gray grief,
if love were what the rose is,
And I were like the leaf.

If I were what the words are,
And love were like the tune.
With double sound and single
belight our lips would mingle,
With kisses glad as birds are
That get sweet rain at noon;
If I were what the words are,
And love were like the tune.

If you were life, my darling.

And I your love were death.
We'd shine and snow together
Ere March made sweet the weather
With daffodil and starling
And hours of fruitful breath;
If you were life, my darling.

And I your love were death.

If you were thrall to sorrow
And I were page to joy,
We'd play for lives and seasons
With leving looks and treasons
And lears of night and morrow
And laughs of maid and boy;
If you were thrall to sorrow,
And I were page to joy.

And I were April's lace.

And I were lord of May.

We'd throw with leaves for hours,
And draw for days with flowers
Till day like night were shady
And night were bright like day:
If you were April's lady.

And I were lord of May.

If you were queen of pleasure,
And I were king of pain,
We'd hunt down love together,
Pluck out his fiving-feather.
And teach his feet a measure,
And find his mouth a rein.
If you were queen of pleasure,
And I were king of pain.

average weight of such a bale is 105 pounds, and in 1910 the average price a bale was $356.85. Juarez, Mexico, claims to be the only city in the world in which the direc-tion and control of the city parks have been turned over completely to women, a board of eight women managers hav-ing exclusive control of them.

An exposition covering the clay-products industries will be held in Chi-cago March 7 to 12 of next year, and the early plans promise the most com-plete display of the various lines com-prised in this industry that ever has been provided. been provided.

The year 1910, on the whole, was a prosperous one for Jamaica. The inancial success of the island is largely dependent on the banana industry, sugar, however, for the past few years has yielded fair profits, encouraging the planters to extend its cultivation Years ago herds of pure bred horses, catile, hogs, etc., were imported into Mexico from the United States and Europe, but experience proved that the rough and unsheltered life was too much for the wontedly well cared for imported animals. Better results were obtained by importing the pure bred

The new Spanish gunboat Recalde was turned over to the government in July by the constructors at Carlagena. This vessel is the first of its class to enter the Spanish navy. The keel was laid in September, 1909, and the launching took place in January, 1911. It is interesting to note that not only was the ship constructed in Spain, but all the material entering into the construction was also of Spanish manufactured in Spain, but struction was also of Spanish manu-

The effect of the weather upon crys-The effect of the weather upon crystallization is curious. When it is dry the crystals are large and well defined; when it rains or there is a damp wind the salt crystallizes in fine grains; or again, rain will stop the crystallization entirely or retard it for many days. Even after crystallization has taken place in lumps as large as hazelnuts a damp wind or a rain will reduce the whole mass to a fine granular state. ular state,
